What progress has London Borough of Lambeth made in the last year?

The Council is delivering improvements across the majority of service areas. Over 65 per cent of performance indicators have improved since 2002/03 and educational achievements, benefits, waste collection, recycling and the looked after children's services have all improved. Good progress has been made on meeting government targets on accessing services electronically. Areas requiring further improvement include housing, which remains high spending, and a continued emphasis on value for money. Joint community outcomes on reducing street crime and drug treatment programmes are bringing positive results through multi agency working, although crime is still high. The ambitious 'Revitalise' programme to deliver regeneration remains on target and funding is in place for two city academies. Access to services has been further enhanced by opening a central service centre and multi-agency service centres are due to be rolled out across the Borough during 2006. The Council has robust plans to monitor and report progress on its 'improvement plan'. Whilst the management capacity to deliver plans is currently in place, this needs to be maintained to continue the strong progress Lambeth Council is making.

How London Borough of Lambeth is run

Corporate assessments carried out from 2005 onwards have changed. There is now a greater focus on leadership, partnership working, value for money and the achievement of local priorities. The scoring framework has also been revised and for this reason they are not directly comparable with corporate assessments in previous years. All councils will have the new-style corporate assessment by 2008, as part of a rolling programme of corporate assessments and joint area reviews. Until these have been completed the overall CPA category for a council that has a new-style corporate assessment will be based on either its new or the previous corporate assessment score, whichever is the higher.

Council ability

Score used for 2005 is from the 2004 corporate assessment

2

In assessing how the Council is run, the Commission considers three questions:

1. What is the Council, together with its partners trying to achieve?
2. What is the capacity of the Council, including its work with partners, to deliver what it is trying to achieve?
3. What has been achieved?
