Licensing Manager	2.40	9	Addition of text relating to examples of measures of Adult Gaming Centres	Adult Gaming Centres	New text incorporated	2.42 The authority will expect applicants to offer their own measures to meet the licenising objectives. These measures/licence conditions may cover issues such as Proof of Age Schemes; CCTV; Physical separation areas and manned entrances/machine areas. This list is not mandatory, nor exhaustive, and is merely indicative of example measures. 2.43 Adult Gaming Centres are subject of mandatory and default conditions under the Gambling Act 2005. The Licensing Authority will not seek to duplicate these measures, however, where appropriate, it will develop these conditions to address specific issues arising from the premises in the form of licence conditions being attached to the premises licence.	Dec 21
Licensing Manager	4.3	10	Removal of text and inclusion of revised wording for Licensed Lotteries	Licensed lotteries include those run by societies that aim to raise more than £20,000 in a single draw, or £250,000 in a calendar year, as well as any lotteries promoted by a Local Authority. An operating licence must be held by the promoter(s) of these lotteries.	New wording incorporated	Licensed lotteries (proceeds exceed £20,000 for each lottery or aggregate proceeds exceed £250,000 in a calendar year) & Local Authority Lotteries (administered by local authorities for the benefit of local authorities). An operating licence must be held by the promoter(s) of these lotteries.	Dec 21
Licensing Manager	4.3	11	Removal of text and inclusion of revised wording for Exempt Lotteries	Exempt lotteries fall into one of four sub-categories, each with its own limits on the amounts that can be raised, the purposes for which it can be promoted, and the manner in which it must be run. These sub-categories comprise Incidental Non-Commercial Lotteries, Customer Lotteries, Private Lotteries, and Small Society Lotteries.	New wording incorporated	Exempt lotteries are lotteries permitted to run without a licence from the Gambling Commission each with its own limits on the amounts that can be raised, the purposes for which it can be promoted, and the manner in which it must be run. These are: Incidental Non-Commercial Lotteries: these are raffles which take place during the course of an event, e.g., tickets are sold and a raffle that is drawn during a fete, party or meeting. Work Lotteries and Resident's Lotteries: these include raffles in which tickets are only sold to a) people who all work in the same premises; or b) people who all live in the same premises. This lottery does not require registration and any money raised for a good cause must be stipulated when selling tickets. If tickets are not for a good cause, all proceeds must be spent on costs of	Dec 21

						organising the lottery and buying prizes. Customer Lotteries: these are where businesses arrange lotteries for their customers, whereby tickets are sold on the business' own premises, to its customers and the prize is worth less than £50. These lotteries do not require registration.. Such lotteries cannot be used or fundraising. Private Society Lotteries: this is a raffle where tickets are restricted to members of the society only. Tickets can be sold to guests of members and all proceeds must go to the organisation or to a charity (after organising costs and prizes are deducted). This lottery does not require registration. Society Lotteries: this is where a raffle is run by a non-commercial society (such as a community group or charity) whereby tickets are sold to members of the public in advance. These lotteries require registration with the Gambling Commission Societies may organise lotteries if they are licensed by the Gambling Commission, or if they fall within one of the exempt categories. The Licensing Authority recommends those seeking to run lotteries, seek their own independent legal advice on which type of lottery category they fall under.
Licensing Manager	4.4	12	Removal of part text specific to exempt categories as this has now been expanded at 4.3	Of the four sub-categories of exempt lotteries, only Small Society Lotteries require registration with a Local Authority – no authorisation is required for the other three categories.	Revised paragraph	The administration and enforcement of licensed lotteries is carried out solely by the Gambling Commission, although local authorities may provide information and intelligence to assist in these processes. Both the Commission and local authorities may carry out enforcement checks to ensure that any exempt lotteries are carried on in accordance with the relevant legal restrictions	Dec 21
Licensing Manager	4.5	13	Inclusion of text re: small lotteries		New wording incorporated	Small Society Lotteries are those where (a) 20% of proceeds go to the purposes of the society; (b) proceeds raised are under £20,000 for each lottery; (c) aggregate proceeds are under £250,000 in a calendar year and (d) the maximum prize is £25,000. These lotteries require registration with a Local Authority where their principal office is located. Where the local authority believes the Society's office is situated in another area, it will inform the Society as	Dec 21 soon ss possible.  Small Lottery operators registered with the Licensing Authority must maintain a written record of all sold and unsold tickets for a period of one year from the date the draw occurs. The Licensing Authority is permitted to inspect these records.
