

This map of Lambeth, London, illustrates the geographical distribution of four specific polling districts: VAA, VAB, VAC, and VAD. The districts are delineated by blue outlines, while the broader area of Lambeth is bounded by a red line. A legend in the top-left corner identifies the symbols used: a black dot for a Polling Station, a blue outline for Polling Districts, and a red outline for the Bishop's area. The River Thames flows along the western and southern edges of the map, with several bridges crossing it, including Waterloo Bridge and Lambeth Bridge. Key landmarks and infrastructure are labeled, such as Waterloo Station, the London Eye, the Royal National Theatre, and the Houses of Parliament. The map also shows a network of streets, including major roads like the A3200 and A3202, and various local amenities like schools (e.g., Johanna Primary School, Walnut Tree Walk Primary School), hospitals (e.g., St Thomas' Hospital), and parks (e.g., Jubilee Gardens, Archbishop's Park). A compass rose in the bottom-right corner indicates the orientation of the map.
